

Continuing Education

Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia Care Practitioner Certificate Series

What is the Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia Care Practitioner course?

The Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia Care Practitioner course provides professional development for individuals interested in sharpening their caregiver training. Whether you are an experienced healthcare professional, or a family caregiver, you can learn appropriate, competent, and sensitive direct care and support for Alzheimer's and dementia patients.

Career Outlook Personal Care Aide

Avg. Starting Salary: $18,800

Average Salary: $24,600

Projected Job Growth: 38.5%

The average salary listed reflects the mean average wage for workers in this industry, while the average starting wage is tied to workers at the beginning of their careers.

The earning potential for employees with certifications and associate of applied science degrees may exceed the average salary.

*Data for Collin County obtained from JobsEQ and O*Net*

Note: Average salary for occupation as of 2023 and job growth projected from 2023-2029

Your Educational Path

Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia Care Practitioner

- This certificate can be completed in three days.
- Classes are offered fully online.

Why Collin College?

- Small class size
- Field-experienced educators
- Preparation for national council certifications

Where can I work after completing this course?

Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia Care Practitioner professionals work in hospitals, memory care facilities, senior living residences, rehabilitation centers, home health companies, and more.

Scan the QR code
for more information.

Collin College is an equal opportunity institution and provides educational and employment opportunities without discrimination on any basis protected by applicable law.

Published 4/13/23. Information is subject to change.

15852-23PB

Contact Information

CEHealthCare@collin.edu
972.985.3761

Health Sciences
Continuing Education